A Few Words from the President

Well, it’s that time of year again, the holiday season! A time for gatherings and fellowship and a time for good cheer. As Molossia is a family nation, these traditions are important to us, and we thus place great emphasis on family gatherings. So, as other activities wane in December, Christmas and other holidays celebrations reign supreme. This month we will celebrate Christmas around the National Christmas Tree in Government House, and then Boxing Day (with accompanying shepherd’s pie) the day after. And, like most, we will count down the minutes to the new year (even though our official new year celebration is also Chinese New Year). And of course we will be sending out our annual Christmas Cards again this year. So join us in this season of merriment and have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Guy Fawkes Celebration

On 5 November 2015 XXXVIII, Molossians celebrated our fifth annual Guy Fawkes Night. Guy Fawkes Night, or Bonfire Night, is a popular event in Great Britain, dating back to the foiled Gunpowder Plot of 5 November 1605 when Guy Fawkes and 13 of his cohorts conspired to blow up Parliament and King James I of England. After the plot was uncovered and the conspirators executed, the 5th of November became an official holiday in Great Britain, adopted likewise five years ago in Molossia, in recognition of our English roots. In the days prior to the holiday, Molossian citizens gathered in Government House and created their own Guys, to burn in effigy. That done, they assembled in Red Square and built a sizable bonfire, joined by the Miller Family, friends of Molossia. Dinner was bangers and mash, apple crisp dessert and hot apple cider. Then the Guy Fawkes rhyme was recited by the company, after which the Guys were committed to the bonfire, one by one, the President's going in last. The evening was concluded with gentle revelry around the fire until it became coals. A fine time was had by all and we all look forward to next year's Guy Fawkes Night!

Molossia Wedding

On 6 November 2015 XXXVIII, a very special event took place in Molossia. Commodore Jonathan and Mrs. Kathleen Miller, honorary Molossian citizens and friends of His Excellency, The President and The First Lady, renewed their wedding vows. In a ceremony conducted by The President, the Millers exchanged vows in Red Square, reaffirming their love after five years of marriage. The Millers were visiting Molossia while on vacation, and the Commodore surprised Mrs. Commodore by secretly arranging for the President to marry them again. Our congratulations to the Millers on five years of wedded bliss and we wish them many more happy years to come!
The Republic of Molossia is making changes in some of our far-flung claims. We are saying farewell to our Venus territory and relocating our Pacific Ocean territory to the far side of the world.

The Vesperia Territorial Administration was originally conceived and created over ten years ago after the USGS was kind enough to name a crater on Venus after the former First Lady, Lisa Baugh. A large area around Lisa Crater was then claimed for Molossia, named Vesperia. Following the departure of the former First Lady, the raison d'être for the crater name and the Vesperia claim ceased to exist. An effort was made to align a different crater name for First Lady Adrianne Baugh but this connection was tenuous and indeed the very idea of an extraterrestrial claim was deemed spurious. Thus it has been decided to abandon the Vesperia Territorial Administration and say goodbye to our claim on the evening star.

In related news, it has been decided that Neptune Deep, our distant claim in the Pacific Ocean, will be moved. Previously Neptune Deep lay at about 1860 Imperial Nortons (1860 km / 1155 mi) southwest of Mexico, far out in the Pacific Ocean. Of course this claim was never meant to be colonized nor did our government ever even expect to travel there. Recently it was decided to move that claim to a spot more related to Molossia – our antipodes. An antipodes is a spot directly opposite another on the globe. Most locations in North America have an antipodes in the Indian Ocean and Molossia is no exception. Our antipodes is Latitude S 39° 19’ 22.0679”, Longitude E 60° 27’ 37.2189”, about 1900 Imperial Nortons (1900 KM) southeast of Madagascar and 1400 IN northwest of the Kerguelen Islands. We now claim 2054 Square Royal Nortons (.50 ha / 1.3 ac) there, exactly corresponding to the Molossian Home Territory. It will still be named Neptune Deep and just as the previous claim, it will continue to serve as a marine sanctuary and reserve. There is more information located on our Neptune Deep webpage here.

We salute these territorial changes as positive forward movement for Molossia, making our nation a better place!

The Last Word With The First Lady

The countdown to Christmas has begun! December has arrived and the holiday season is in full swing! Hopefully everyone was able to spend time with their friends and family for Thanksgiving or are making plans for Christmas. Family and friends are so important. Some people have family that lives far away or family that they don’t get along with. Some people don’t have much family at all. The holidays are a time that everyone should try to put those differences aside for the greater good and be thankful that we have each other. Here in Molossia we have a bountiful family. A never ending parade of cousins and aunts and uncles. Always someone to talk to or to do something with. If you don’t have much family then it is important to be close to friends. Look around and think about your friends. Think about who doesn’t have very much family and see if you can invite them to be with you during the holidays. Even better than a present underneath the tree, someone that is there for you is a gift that lasts a lifetime. Who can you give that gift to?

Merry Christmas!

~Adrienne
